

Jim Fowler OF COUNSEL

P: 501-377-0342

M: jfowler@roselawfirm.com

Jim began his career as a municipal securities lawyer at Rose Law Firm in 1978. Since rejoining the Firm, he has lead the firm in engagements as bond counsel, underwriters counsel and trustee counsel for tax backed and revenue bond issues. His practice has also included representing both governmental and private industry participants in economic development transactions involving various incentives including grants, PILOT Agreements, state tax credits and industrial development bond financing. His clients have also included agencies and a constitutional officer of the State of Arkansas.

SERVICES

- Corporate and Securities
- Government Relations
- Public Finance and Economic Development
- State and Local Government

INDUSTRIES

- Economic Development Agencies
- Municipal Securities

EDUCATION

Hendrix College, B.A.

University of Arkansas School of Law, J.D.

Southern Methodist University, School of Law, LLM

EXPERIENCE

- Over 38 years experience in the municipal securities industry as a bond lawyer, investment banker, municipal advisor, registered lobbyist and municipal securities principal
- Bond counsel for Arkansas issues and as co-bond counsel in other states
- Engagements as underwriter's, trustee and disclosure counsel
- Advise public officials regarding the Arkansas Freedom of Information Act
- United States Bankruptcy Court approved special representation relating to tax-exempt bonds
- Former officer and co-owner of Little Rock based broker-dealer
- Former bank director

AFFILIATION

- National Association of Bond Lawyers
- Quapaw Area Council of Boy Scouts of America: Investment Committee Chairman, Silver Beaver Award, James E. West Fellow
- Arkansas and Pulaski County Bar Associations